

Shehab and Salam Have Conference At Home in Beirut

U. S. Envoy Is Looking for Revolt's End

BY WILTON WYNN
Beirut — President-elect Fuad Shehab met today with rebel leader Saeb Salam behind a heavy security cordon in a Beirut residential area.

Salam, the commander of rebels in the Beirut area and a spokesman for insurgents all over Lebanon, came from behind the barricades in the Basta Moslem quarter for the first time since the rebellion began May 10.

Witnesses said a crowd cheered Salam as he entered the home of relatives for the meeting. Shehab arrived a few minutes later.

Salam demanded after Shehab was elected Thursday to become president Sept. 24 that pro-western President Camille Chamoun step down immediately to make way for Shehab, hte non-political commander of the Lebanese army.

No Word On Withdrawal
Shehab has not used his army against the rebels in more than limited holding actions and reportedly has had numerous contacts with rebel leaders during the 85-day revolution.

U. S. Ambassador Robert McClintock said he is optimistic about the end of the rebellion. He parried news conference questions whether American troops can withdraw.

The ambassador recalled Secretary of State Dulles' statement Thursday that U. S. forces would leave when a duly constituted Lebanese government asks it.

"Of course, we could pull out unilaterally but I don't foresee that," the ambassador said.

Tanks On Way
Adm. James L. Holloway, who also participated in a news conference, denied that there was any political significance in the arrival of more U. S. forces. He said he understood tanks are also on the way but declined to comment.

Holloway explained what appears to be a heavy buildup by saying that both troops and equipment were parts of original chart of forces designated for Lebanon.

"There is no political significance whatever," the admiral said. "Support forces are entirely normal. There is no augmentation as such."

Slayer of Son Sent

To Winnebago Hospital

Racine — Mrs. Irene Mielcarek, 33, of Racine, was committed to Winnebago State hospital Friday after psychiatrists testified she is insane and unable to stand trial on a charge of first degree murder.

Mrs. Mielcarek, charged in the death of her 13-month-old son, Kenneth, admitted to authorities that she choked the infant to death Thursday.

The mother of three other sons, Mrs. Mielcarek was a patient in a mental institution last year and left against the advice of physicians.

Senate Group Wants Ike to Fight Inflation

Hopes He Can Get Industry, Labor to Hold Pay-Price Line

Washington — A senate subcommittee prepared an appeal to President Eisenhower today to use his strongest efforts to persuade industry and labor leaders to hold the price-wage line.

The decision to urge action by the president was taken yesterday by the senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee in the wake of price boosts announced by major steel producers.

Alarming Implications
The subcommittee also voted to hold brief hearings, possibly starting next week, on whether any violation of anti-trust laws was involved in what Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) called the simultaneous action of the steel companies in raising prices about $4.25 a ton.

Atty. Gen. Rogers and the heads of the federal trade commission and the justice department's anti-trust division will be invited to testify, he said.

Kefauver said subcommittee members were alarmed by the implications of the price increase "as it affects the cost of living, the defense budget, foreign trade, and our economic recovery."

Pro Sports Strike Out

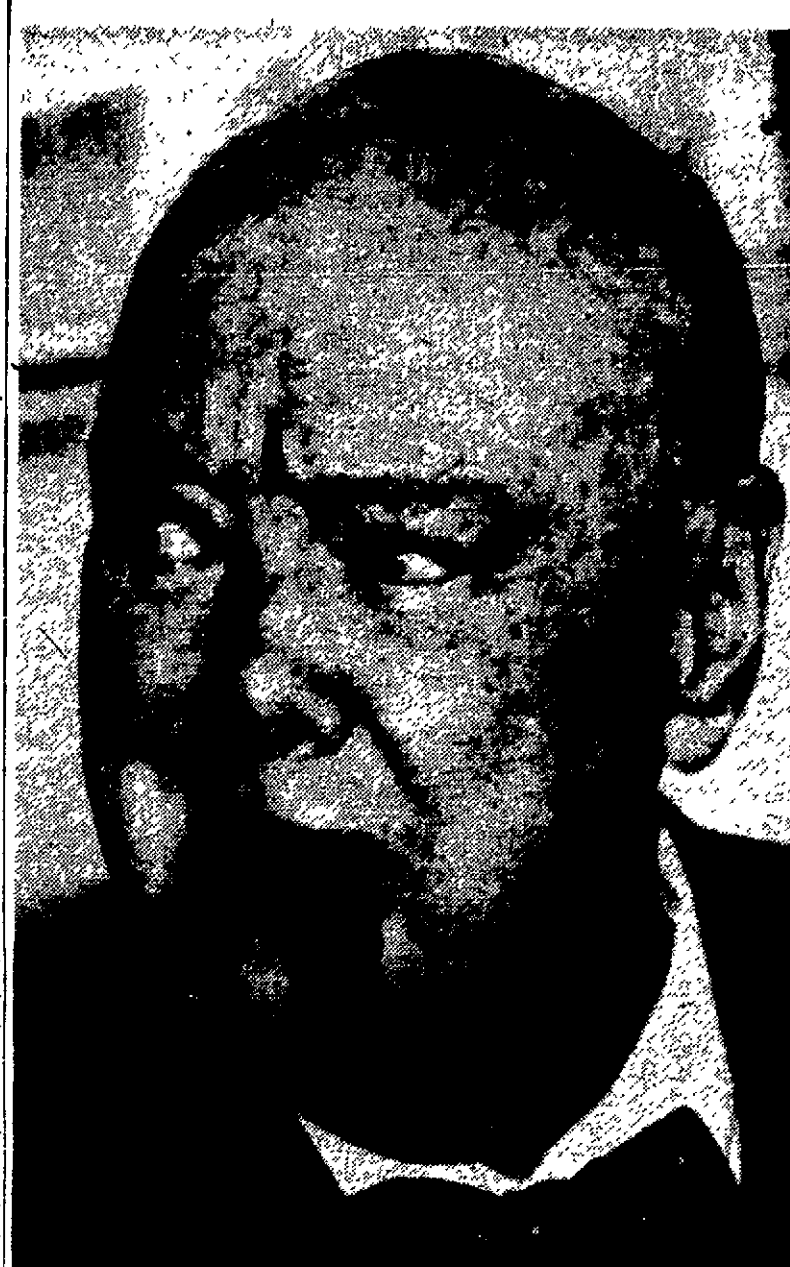

Congress Tables Action on Anti-Trust Law Exemptions

Washington — Pro sports operators, after striking out in congress, were in the same spot today as the old Brooklyn fans who could only wait "wait till next year."

The senate antimonopoly subcommittee Friday put off till 1959 action on the antitrust law exemptions for which baseball, football, basketball and hockey have campaigned the last two years.

By a 4-2 vote, the group headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) tabled a house-passed bill to relieve professional team sports of antitrust curbs on contracts and agreements dealing with players and territorial or TV-radio rights. The effect was to kill the legislation for this session of congress which is expected to wind up in about two weeks.

Kefauver said the complicated matter deserved more extensive study.

Munitions Dump Blows Up in Brazil

Fear of New Blasts Keep Rescue Workers From Area

Rio de Janeiro — A big army munitions dump was ripped today by a series of blasts. Military authorities said the casualty toll could not be determined but civilian officials said 50 persons may have been killed.

Rescue workers were kept out of the shattered area 18 miles from Rio de Janeiro for fear more artillery shells might go off.

The war ministry issued a

Army Sergeant Shot to Death by Unknown Sniper

Beirut — A U. S. Army sergeant was fatally shot last night by unknown assailants as his truck was passing through Beirut, an army spokesman said.

Both an army team and Lebanese authorities were investigating the shooting but there was no immediate indication who fired the bullet which struck the sergeant at the base of the throat.

He was the fifth American to die—the first four accidentally—since U. S. troops began landing in Lebanon July 15 at the request of pro-western President Camille Chamoun. The sergeant's name was withheld until next of kin could be notified.

communicate calling on the population to remain calm in the wake of the shattering blasts that spread panic over a wide area.

Artur de Vargas, Jr., who was in a housing development near the scene, described the blasts as "something terrifying and indescribable."

"We got the impression it was the end of the world," Vargas said, "that house, people, everything would be wiped out in the big catastrophe."

The main blast occurred in the Cambul munition dump in the town of Deodoro. Two army regiments are stationed near the dump.

The newspaper Diario da Noite quoted President Juscelino Kubitschek as saying the army estimated the damage at one billion cruzeiros (about $74 million).

An army spokesman said the explosions apparently were caused by spontaneous combustion and ruled out the possibility of sabotage.

City Health Secretary Guilhermo Romano said in a radio interview after returning from the disaster scene that "thanks to fast evacuation there apparently will be only a small number of victims."

Authorities estimated during pre-dawn darkness that up to 1,000 persons might have been killed. This was based on the belief that the blasts and fire had swept a nearby housing area, but when the sun came up behind pillars of smoke, authorities said there was a good chance most residents had been evacuated.

Medical Booster Shots Not Factor in Death, Army Hospital Says

Fl. Jackson, S.C. — Medical booster shots had nothing to do with the death of an army recruit who collapsed from heat prostration here this week, say hospital authorities at this army post.

They said last night that an autopsy shows Pvt. Hobart L. Brinsmade, Jr., 21, of Bronxville, N.Y., died Thursday of a heat stroke with meningococcus as a contributory cause.

Hospital authorities said the autopsy on Brinsmade showed that meningococcus, the bacteria which causes a form of spinal meningitis, was present in the blood stream prior to immunization which Brinsmade received upon entry into the service.

Another recruit, Pvt. Darris L. Drake of Baltimore, Md., who also collapsed, was flown to Walter Reed hospital in Washington yesterday. Doctors said Drake was considerably improved.

Officials Expect Quick Reply by Khrushchev

Wouldn't Rat On Pal, Goes Back to Prison

Des Moines — An Iowa convict who escaped and led a good life must serve nearly three more years because he didn't want to rat on a prison acquaintance.

Harold Plude, 42, who married and raised a family in Connecticut during eight years of freedom, got ready today for his second return to the penitentiary.

The first return was last November when he came back to Iowa from Bridgeport, Conn., and surrendered voluntarily to serve the remainder of a 25-year holdup sentence.

Plude's wife and two sons, Henry, 6, and Johnny, 3, came back to wait for him. Last May he was released on parole for showing he could be a good citizen.

Harbored Friend
Plude got a job as a construction worker and the reunited family lived happily in a modest home in Des Moines.

Then last Monday night, 25-year-old James Herbert Slater walked into Plude's home. He had fled the same prison farm near Des Moines from which Plude escaped nearly a decade ago. Plude and Slater had become acquainted after Plude returned to prison last November.

"I begged him to give himself up," Plude said.

After 36 hours at the Plude home, Slater asked Plude to drive him to Ames—30 miles away. Plude said he agreed in order to get rid of Slater. Both men were arrested. Yesterday the parole board ruled Plude must go back to prison for knowingly harboring an escapee.

"I violated my parole and they couldn't do anything else," Plude said. "I was never known to rat on anybody even though Slater knew he was putting me on the spot. I'll do differently next time."

Plude's wife said: "We all love him and we'll be waiting for him when he is able to come back to us."

U. S. Recognizes Iraqi Government

Washington — The United States is recognizing the revolutionary government of Iraq today.

State department officials said a formal announcement of the action would be made during the day. It had been fore-shadowed by Secretary of State Dulles' statement at a news conference Thursday that the United States would follow the course which its allies considered "wise and prudent."

The Adenauer government withheld official comment on Fanfani's plan until hearing the details, but the West German foreign office expressed interest in any economic plan that has good prospects for stabilizing the Middle East. West German officials, however, insisted that any economic aid would have to be channeled through an international organization.

Fanfani, who is also his nation's foreign minister, was also expected to discuss the summit meeting situation with Adenauer.

Fanfani Maps Proposals for Mideast Peace

Includes Economic Plan and Ban on Outside Interference

Bonn — Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani flew in today to seek West German support for his plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer greeted Fanfani at the airport at the beginning of a one-day visit before the Italian premier returns to Rome. Fanfani has been in Washington and London, and Italian sources said he will confer later with French Premier De Gaulle.

Fanfani has proposed an international economic development authority for Arab nations and those with Middle East interests, a major power ban on interference in the turbulent area and a pledge of Middle Eastern nations themselves not to bother each other.

Similar Reactions
Italy and West Germany, both staunch members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, already have much in common in their reactions toward the Middle East situation.

Both were dismayed by the failure of the United States and Britain to consult with their NATO allies before sending troops to the Middle East.

Fanfani fired off letters to both Adenauer and President Eisenhower immediately after the landings. Then he went to Washington and London to consult with President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan.

The West Germans share the Italian view that international economic aid is the best way to counter communist infiltration in the Middle East and come to an agreement with Arab nationalism.

The Adenauer government withheld official comment on Fanfani's plan until hearing the details, but the West German foreign office expressed interest in any economic plan that has good prospects for stabilizing the Middle East.

Answer Probably Will be Favorable One but Exact Response Can't be Forecast

Washington — U. S. officials looked today for a quick—and probably favorable—reply from Moscow to the U. S. British proposal for a U. N. summit conference to begin about Aug. 12.

These authorities said, however, that the exact response of Soviet Premier Khrushchev is more than ordinarily difficult to predict. Because the Russian leader has been confronted with not one but two conflicting summit proposals from the west, these officials say Khrushchev is in a position to pick and choose. French Premier De Gaulle has called for a 5-power meeting to begin in Geneva Aug. 18—and outside the framework of the United Nations.

In the series of exchanges between western leaders and Khrushchev over the last two weeks, the Soviet premier at one point agreed to a U. N. Security council session of heads of government—as advocated by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan. But Khrushchev later came out strongly for his original proposal of July 19 for a 5-power conference of the type which De Gaulle favors. Thus Khrushchev is in position to move either way.

Eisenhower's Letter
President Eisenhower's latest move in negotiations for a summit meeting to discuss the tense Middle Eastern situation came yesterday in another note to Khrushchev. In it, Eisenhower said for the first time that if a special session of the U. N. Security council is arranged he will attend "and I hope that you would do likewise."

Eisenhower left open the question of a site, saying that the meeting might be held in some place other than New York City, which is U. N. headquarters. There was much talk that the decision might eventually go to Geneva or possibly another west European city.

Meanwhile, however, U. S. officials charged with security arrangements reported that plans for protecting Khrushchev against possible anti-communist demonstrators in New York, should be gone there, were substantially completed.

Security Measures
They estimated that 4,000 to 5,000 police and government security agents would be used. They said also that if Khrushchev made his personal headquarters in a Soviet-owned mansion at Glen Cove, L. I., they hoped he would agree to travel between that point and U. N. headquarters in Manhattan by helicopter. They planned to make several helicopters available to him for his purpose.

In his new reply to Khrushchev, Eisenhower again rejected the Soviet charge that U. S.-British troop landings in Lebanon and Jordan threatened world peace.

"The problem of the Middle East is not one of a threat of aggression by the United States," Eisenhower wrote, "but rather the threat, by others, of further indirect aggression against independent states. This problem is clearly the responsibility of the United Nations Security council."

Boling Lands Light Plane in Oregon After 6,979-Mile Flight From Manila

Pendleton, Ore. — Veteran flier Marion Boling says he would not want to re-live the hours of his record, non-stop flight across the Pacific ocean.

"This was the toughest thing I've ever done," the handsome 43-year-old Boling said after ending the 6,979-mile flight here yesterday.

"I wouldn't want to go back and re-live those hours, but I think I'll always look back on them as the best 48 hours of my life," the Palo Alto, Calif., pilot said.

The flight had begun in Manila, and it ended 45 hours and 42 minutes later when Boling touched down his Beechcraft Bonanza in brilliant sunshine here.

Boling's flight broke the non-stop record for light planes set in 1940 by his idol and inspiration—the late Capt. Bill Odom.

"The original idea must have gone way back to Lindbergh, but from the night I saw Bill Odom take off in Honolulu I knew I could make it some day," Boling said.

Boling encountered serious difficulties on the flight across the Pacific. Once, he nearly had to ditch the plane.

When Boling came into this eastern Oregon town for a landing, he was dizzy, a little sick and nearly out of gas.

Boling encountered serious difficulties on the flight across the Pacific. Once, he nearly had to ditch the plane.

When Boling came into this eastern Oregon town for a landing, he was dizzy, a little sick and nearly out of gas.

"I got awfully lonely at times. It's a lonesome thing to fly that far in a little, tiny machine with nothing to keep you company."

"I thought about the wife, and the kids, and kept looking at that big yellow moon shining off that cold Pacific."

"I didn't have a portable radio. I didn't have a parachute. I left it in Manila because it weighed 25 pounds," he said. Boling, however, did carry a Bible.

The most severe trouble, he said, was encountered after he left the Cold Bay, Alaska, area. Ice began forming on the plane and, as he started to descend, the craft began to lose fuel. Finally, he dropped to 1,500 feet.

"I really thought I was going to have to put it in the water, but then I got out of that when it began to rain."

It had been 17 years since Boling had sat at the controls of a light plane, but the United Air Lines pilot touched down here smoothly.

Because his gas was so low, Boling waved off instructions to circle the field once.

Greeted by Wife, Son
The pilot was greeted by his wife and their 9-year-old son, Kevin.

As soon as he was out of the plane, the fatigue vanished. Boling chatted happily with newsmen and complained only that his face was badly sunburned and that he felt like a lump of sugar from eating so much sweet food.

Another recruit, Pvt. Darris L. Drake of Baltimore, Md., who also collapsed, was flown to Walter Reed hospital in Washington yesterday. Doctors said Drake was considerably improved.

There's Nothing Missing, It's just that engineers have yet to complete what will be the nation's highest steel arch bridge 700 feet above the Colorado river. The bridge will carry auto traffic over the river near Glen Canyon dam in northern Arizona. The 1,271-foot span will be the only one along a 300-mile stretch of the river canyon. The steel arches will meet in about five days, but it will be January before it is opened to traffic. (AP Wirephoto)

At least psoriasis isn't a disease that is going to kill or disable you, or even bother you, except that it looks bad. It may be limited to very small roundish spots, or may cover rather large areas.

X-ray, and various drugs, (sometimes cortisone, which someday we are going to understand, but don't now) may bring rapid clearing of the skin. Sometimes they don't. Some drugs, when used for prolonged periods, aggravate the condition and therefore should be stopped.

Patent medicines claiming to "cure" psoriasis are a snare. They happen to work often enough so the producers of them can point to enough successful cases to put up a plausible argument, but not often enough to come close to the batting average of dermatologists who, in spite of the difficulty involved, seem to develop a sixth sense and instinctively (I'm using the wrong word, of course) know which treatment to try, and when to change it.

Facts Discovered
Some experts think that a previous irritation of the skin contributes to starting an attack. Watching cases seems to support this idea. In about one case in three, family history shows other causes. As a general rule, cases clear up under summer sun, get worse in winter.

Both men and women have the trouble. Women often find the situation clears up temporarily during pregnancy. Before the age of 10 and after 45, psoriasis is rare. This leads to suspect that glandular activity is involved. A low-fat diet is thought to be helpful in some cases—from which I draw no conclusions at all.

Scalp and nails may be stubbornly involved; elbows and knees are more common places. Any skin area may suffer. The mucous membranes are not involved. There you have it, briefly, the riddle of psoriasis. Ingrown Toenail

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please—what do you do for ingrown toenails?"—Mrs. O.A.

If you won't go to your doctor — the answer is to guard against infection, and careful tuck a tiny ball of absorbent cotton under the edge of the nail until gradually it is trained into normal position instead of digging into the flesh. Along with this, avoid too-tight hose, shoes, or cut the nail. Sometimes they don't. Some drugs, when used for prolonged periods, aggravate the condition and therefore should be stopped.

Both men and women have the trouble. Women often find the situation clears up temporarily during pregnancy. Before the age of 10 and after 45, psoriasis is rare. This leads to suspect that glandular activity is involved. A low-fat diet is thought to be helpful in some cases—from which I draw no conclusions at all.

Scalp and nails may be stubbornly involved; elbows and knees are more common places. Any skin area may suffer. The mucous membranes are not involved. There you have it, briefly, the riddle of psoriasis. Ingrown Toenail

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please—what do you do for ingrown toenails?"—Mrs. O.A.

If you won't go to your doctor — the answer is to guard against infection, and careful tuck a tiny ball of absorbent cotton under the edge of the nail until gradually it is trained into normal position instead of digging into the flesh. Along with this, avoid too-tight hose, shoes, or cut the nail. Sometimes they don't. Some drugs, when used for prolonged periods, aggravate the condition and therefore should be stopped.

Patent medicines claiming to "cure" psoriasis are a snare. They happen to work often enough so the producers of them can point to enough successful cases to put up a plausible argument, but not often enough to come close to the batting average of dermatologists who, in spite of the difficulty involved, seem to develop a sixth sense and instinctively (I'm using the wrong word, of course) know which treatment to try, and when to change it.

Facts Discovered
Some experts think that a previous irritation of the skin contributes to starting an attack. Watching cases seems to support this idea. In about one case in three, family history shows other causes. As a general rule, cases clear up under summer sun, get worse in winter.

Petke Tosses No Hitter at New London

New London — Neuman's routed Benny's Bar in industrial league softball play this week behind the no-hit pitching of Walter Petke.

Petke allowed five walks. Two eventually reached third base, but were unable to score. The winners jumped off to a 4-run lead in the first inning. Van's Alley's parlayed 17 hits into an equal number of runs to dump Sugar Bush 17 to 6.

Ebert's Bar edged Sport-O-Lectric 6 to 4 in the third game.

Don Recard blasted a grand slam home run in the first inning, as Eberts took a 5-run lead. The Sports came back with three runs in the sixth inning and another in the seventh, but were unable to overcome Ebert's lead.

Today and Tomorrow Eisenhower, Khrushchev Encounter Must be Held With Least Damage

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

Just what went wrong between London, Paris and Washington is not quite clear. But something did go wrong in that we find ourselves committed to a spectacular summit meeting in New York, which we did not want, and unable to support Gen. de Gaulle's proposal for a quiet meeting in Europe later on, which is what we ought to want. As a New York meeting now appears to be unavoidable, the question is how to manage the encounter between Eisenhower and Khrushchev with the least damage.

A way must be found to avoid a public debate. For the president has neither the training and knowledge nor the vitality for such an ordeal. Beyond that, it is highly desirable, indeed necessary, to mend our fences in the Middle East so when the meeting takes place we shall not be the defendants in a public trial.

This can be done in two things, now in the works, can be achieved before the summit meeting. One would be an agreement in Lebanon which leads us to withdraw the marines or at least to fix a definite date for their withdrawal. The other would be to extend diplomatic recognition to the new Iraqi government, as Dr. Adenauer and others are advising us to do. These two actions together would refute completely the charge that we are engaged in a military adventure in the Middle East, and we would no longer be on the defensive.

No Glory, Profit

There is no use pretending, however, there will be any glory or profit in this. It will be recognized by all the world as a forced retreat from an untenable position in Lebanon and in Iraq. The question then will be whether the three western governments can produce proposals which open up the prospects of better days in the Middle East.

In my view, the paramount issue in the Middle East is not oil, which the Arabs must sell to the west. It is not Israel, which is on the sidelines in the present crisis. It is not the revolutionary force of Nasserism. The paramount issue is Russia's determination not to have United States military power stationed on her southern flank.

We can never, I think, understand the inwardness of the Middle Eastern crisis unless we recognize that what we consider the military containment of the Soviet Union, Moscow is bound to regard as a military menace to the Soviet Union. Our forces are in Turkey, of which the equivalent would be that the Red forces were in Mexico. We have the NATO alliance and the Baghdad pact, of which the equivalent would be an anti-American Soviet military alliance consisting of Mexico, Cuba, and Central America.

What we are seeing is a campaign by the Soviet Union to disrupt the containing alliance on her frontiers, and with the explosion in Iraq, this campaign has had a great success.

Nasser Agreement

It is important to understand your adversary, and if this analysis is the primary truth about Soviet policy, there are important conclusions to be drawn from it. The first is that a settlement cannot be achieved with Nasser alone. An accommodation with him is most desirable. But appeasement of Nasser is quite unnecessary. The basic settlement must be reached with Moscow, and the subject of that settlement must be the strategic control of the Middle East.

There are three conceivable possibilities. One would be to restore the Middle East as a sphere of influence for Britain, France, and the U. S. A., with Russia excluded. This cannot be done. It is too late. We are not strong enough to do it. A second would be to let the Middle East become a Russian sphere of influence. This would be an unnecessarily abrupt surrender. We are not so weak that we must accept it.

The third possibility would be to neutralize the Middle East as between the two great military alliances, and to build upon this over-all neutralization, specific agreements about the oil business, about the security of Iran, Lebanon, and Israel. This will not be easy, and it requires a higher order of statesmanship than we are now accustomed to. But it is not impossible. For it does not run contrary to the vital interests of any of the nations concerned.

The Purposes of Schools

The Wisconsin Council on Education, which functions as a policy making executive committee of the Wisconsin Education association, has prepared and distributed what it calls a "Statement on Public Education" which is a fair if somewhat trite exposition of the problems and purposes of the public school system.

As it truly notes, the quality of the public school program depends in large part upon what our citizens want and demand in each local community. Up until now, the control of the schools is in the hands of local government, although we cannot resist reminding this professional society that some of its associated organizations would, through putting their reliance upon Washington financing, endanger that local control.

It also is evident, and the WEA document states it well, that criticism of the school system should be selective. It is patent that a small town, with a small school, cannot offer the variety of curriculum and perhaps the quality of equipment and service that a larger system can economically provide. The quality of administrative organization is inevitably related to the quality of educational service, and we are happy to repeat that the WEA over the years has taken a constructive and progressive view on school district reorganization.

We are more skeptical about some of the other pronouncements in the WEA bulletin, including its seeming disparagement of the public enthusiasm recently shown for special attention to the gifted child.

"Cyclic changes of educational emphasis reflect changing patterns of values," the teacher organization observes, and currently the "focus of attention is the education of the gifted child."

The WEA appears concerned that this emphasis will somehow dilute the quality and quantity of attention for the average child or the one with less than average talents.

This is a needless fear, if a fear it is, and the WEA may be missing the point altogether. As our society has matured, we have steadily advanced compulsory school attendance requirements. Today high school attendance is mandatory. The high school is the preparatory school for the typical college or university student. The average high school is geared to the attainment of the average student. To the degree that the gifted child is restrained in the high school, we are slowing up the training of the scientists and engineers and political leaders of a future generation. This is not a question of discriminating against the average child in favor of the "intellectually elite," as the WEA puts it in a strangely suggestive phrase. This is a question of maximum effort of all of our children, the average as well as the superior. Thus far, as we have observed it, we have spent less thought and effort on those above average than on those who are physically or mentally handicapped.

Reds Keep U.S. in the Red

Rep. John Byrnes reports that the House has completed work on 12 appropriation bills which total $58,399,453,016 which is compared with the $57,738,957,800 requested by the President. The senate has since voted to increase the amount still further.

All this is in the face of the fact there was a deficit of about $8 billion for the year ending June 30, and estimates are that the deficit for the current year will be between $10 and $12 billion. The deficit for the past year comes in spite of the fact we started with a budget which featured the highest estimate of tax receipts and the greatest spending in peacetime. We had enjoyed balanced budgets for the two previous years and the President's estimate was there would be a small surplus.

What this means is that the cheering talk of tax cuts which were heard earlier in the session now must be forgotten. Something approaching 65 per cent of the national budget is spent for national security including such items as military, foreign aid, atomic energy and stockpiling. There

When Men Enter a Horse Race

There still are men in this world who believe they can outrun a horse. They are not interested in a mile spurt, but they believe that they can take the horse into camp in a run of 150 miles or so.

The latest to challenge the horse are Paul (Hardrock) Simpson, 53, of Burlington, N. C. and Edo Romagnoli a 37-year-old New York policeman. The race was over the 157 mile stretch from Salt Lake City to Roosevelt, Utah. As usual in such contests, the horse pulled into Roosevelt a winner, having completed the distance in 29 hours, 31 minutes and 42 seconds. The horse was tired and was immediately placed under a veterinarian's care but for all that he was an easy winner since Simpson was the only man still in the race and he was 50 miles behind.

The New York policeman gave the horse

Pensioners and Inflation

The United Auto Workers in its negotiations with General Motors is asking a pension plan geared to living costs. As a means of calling attention to the plight of those depending upon fixed pensions, the union organized a march of pensioners.

There can be no doubt but all persons on fixed incomes are continually experiencing financial difficulties because of the inflationary trends in the nation's economy. But as the pensioners slowly marched around the General Motors building the thought may have occurred to some that they were, by marching, lending a hand to those whose demands if granted would cause further inflation.

Schools 'Flunk' Students, Don't Ask Hard Work

From the Minneapolis Tribune

Note on higher school standards: The New York city schools have just "flunked" about 21,000 elementary school pupils (5 per cent) and 9,000 junior high students whose work this year did not qualify them to enter a higher grade.

Main purpose was to prod the students into working harder.

Note on dubious school standards: When the New York authorities announced the tougher policy three years ago as a warning, they said there would be no promotion for those who were two or more years behind in reading. The warning alone was not effective.

Note on Minneapolis public school policy: About 1 per cent of the elementary pupils are "retained" in the same grade currently, a high proportion of them in the first grade because they are slow in learning to read. Main consideration is to put the child in the grade and group where he can learn most effectively: a fairly bright child who has not been working to full ability is more likely to be held back than a slow child working hard. A very few are accelerated — encouraged to skip a grade. Factors considered for promotion besides academic achievement and mental ability are age, physical growth and the social and emotional development of the child.

Margin Small; Many Have No Opinion

BY ELMO KOPEN AND ASSOCIATES

When U. S. Marines and paratroopers landed on the soil of Lebanon against the background of a rebel coup in Iraq, something began for which no one can at present foresee an end. The action was taken, in the words of Henry Cabot Lodge, speaking in the U. N. Security Council, because of "indirect aggression." Mr. Eisenhower told the congress of the United States what he was doing and gained its general, if not unanimous, support. Democrats Truman and Stevenson were quick to say that Mr. Eisenhower, given the circumstances, could have taken no other course. Obviously, U. S. opinion — and world opinion — will now change almost from hour to hour, and the "wisdom" or "unwisdom" of our course will be decided according to events — still unknown — that seem to spell "success" or "failure" in what we have done.

Experts Differ

Whether the Iraqi coup was "civil war" or an externally fomented anti-Western plot is one of the fundamentals about which expert opinions still differ. Amidst this confusion it is of value to see what the U. S. public thought about our policy toward the Middle East before last week's crisis exploded.

Recently a cross section of American public was asked this question: "The Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East says in part that the United States will resist any Communist aggression in that area with armed force, if it is requested by the country attacked. Which of these statements comes closest to expressing the way you feel about our doing that?" Their answers showed the policy to have more supporters than critics, but not many more:

One Got Us Into Lebanon, the other hopes to get us out. It was Lebanese President Camille Chamoun, right, who appealed for U. S. intervention in his country because of what he felt was an outside threat against his government. Robert Murphy, left, U. S. deputy under secretary of state, has been in Lebanon talking with various factions in hopes of getting a peaceful settlement of differences and an opportunity to get the U. S. Marines out of the country. (AP Wirephoto)

armed force should be the main part of our Middle East policy. Resisting Communist aggression in the Middle East with armed force is important, but it is only one part of a good Middle East policy. We need a good policy in the Middle East, but it should not include using armed force against Communist aggression. 18% We should stay out of Middle Eastern affairs. 22-40% Express no opinion. 14% The answers show that although nearly two-thirds of the nation thought it is important that the U. S. have a positive policy in the Middle East, less than half thought this positive policy should be military involvement. Perhaps the most telling part of these answers, though, is the fact that few people thought reliance on military force was an adequate Middle East policy. Most who did accept it were doing so only as a last resort.

Political Aspects

Along the political spectrum, those who consider themselves Independents were the most strongly convinced that the United States should assist threatened Middle Eastern countries in a military way. The weight of Republican opinion, too, was for willingness to use armed force. Not so with the Democrats who were split into equal numbers favoring and condemning the use of force.

	DEM.	REP.	INDEP.
Armed force should be the main part or at least one part of our Middle East policy	43%	51%	57%
Armed force should not be part of our Middle East policy	18	18	19
We should stay out of Middle Eastern affairs	24	20	15
Express no opinion	15	11	9

It was once said that the U. S. Midwest was the home of American isolationism. True though this may once have been, present answers show that support for a "hands off" policy in the Middle East is not particularly concentrated in the Midwest. In the central states, 25 per cent do want the United States to "stay out of Middle Eastern affairs," but that is only 3 per cent above the national average, and it is matched by the Northeastern section in which 26 per cent say the same thing.

A recent survey of foreign correspondents, reported in a previous column, showed that most of these veteran newsmen who expected another war to break out pointed to the Middle East as its starting point. Among the American public there was no clear consensus on whether this possibility should be risked by offering military assistance to Middle Eastern countries who ask for it. Now that the assistance has been given, events will soon tell whether it has been for good or ill.

How State's Newspapers Feel About Lebanon

Janesville Gazette—In any event it becomes necessary sooner or later to face up to situations. Decisions are made by failure to act or by default just as surely as they are made by positive actions. The United Nations force, comprising U. S. Marines, is on dangerous ground. The peril for this country is especially heavy because America, and not U.N., will be accused by communist regimes. But the line must be drawn somewhere, and this has been picked as the time to attempt to hold onto friendly Middle East governments. For better or worse, we are into it.

Racine Journal-Times — For the Middle East, the United States still needs a definite policy, and one based on our legitimate interests, the legitimate interests of others, and, most important, the legitimate future interests of the people of that part of the country. The Arab nations claim that they want independence and self-determination to permit their own development. We would like to believe that is true, but we cannot ignore the facts that the present leadership of the United Arab Republic seems more interested in promoting the interests of Russia than its own people.

We may be sorry that the United States and the Western world are in a position where military intervention is the only answer to a rapidly-developing Middle Eastern crisis. But that is the position, and intervention was the only realistic answer.

LaCrosse Tribune — Coordination will be essential this time, as against the independent action in Egypt by Britain and France in 1956 which resulted in such a hassle among the Allies.

The United States is also committed to the preservation of Jordan not only for its own sake but also to prevent the complete encirclement of Israel by Nasserism. Yet in all of these countries the imposition of the status quo by Western intervention is against the wishes of large sections of the populations.

Wausau Record-Herald — In the attack on Egypt, Britain and France, without any consultation with Washington, intervened against a legal government with the expressed purpose of bringing about its fall.

In the dispatch of troops to Lebanon, the United States acted with the full approval of its allies, and upon the specific request of the legitimate government of Lebanon. The fact that the two situations are so unlike does not, or course, in itself denote that the U. S. action constituted the right and proper course. But it does signify that the U. S. action in the case of Lebanon should not be judged on the basis of a comparison with the British, French and Israeli action in Egypt.

Waukesha Daily Freeman — The American public is understandably skeptical of the results from meetings in which Soviet spokesmen participate. The Russians usually come out ahead — both in statesmanship and in advantages won, hence their eagerness to meet the U. S., Britain and France most any time and under any conditions. Khrushchev must have a particularly big bag of tricks ready for the New York meeting, judging from his eagerness to get going as quickly as possible.

The Sheboygan Press — Mr. Dulles, with his boastful brinksmanship, has several times nearly taken the United States into war. This time he may realize the disastrous consequences of such folly. His, too, is the responsibility for the weakening of our alliances around the world and the consequent gains by our enemies. Mr. Dulles has many times used bold words and then backed down completely, acting almost as though he had never uttered them. Such inconsistencies bewilder our allies, and even frighten them, while it gives our enemies more time to consolidate their policies.

It may still be possible to avoid full-scale war in the Middle East, to preserve those shaky governments which remain loyal to the West, and to get American troops out of the area. But if we can accomplish such a feat, it will not be because of the brilliance of our Secretary of State.

Now, more than ever before, it is necessary to convince the Arabs that America is not bent on an imperialistic crusade, that we do not oppose their aspirations towards a fuller life, and that they are not mere pawns in the current display of power politics.

Marshfield News-Herald—The Marine may have the situation well in hand, but not even they can provide the Lebanese with a free election that will leave everybody satisfied with the outcome. That, of course, would be impossible even in the United States, but fortunately for us, only once in our history has the defeated minority felt it necessary to resort to arms. That once was quite enough.

Superior Evening Telegram — Not even in the Suez crisis of 1956 was the West's position in the Middle East so widely threatened. One of the worst aspects of the situation is the fact that intervention chances the possibility of inflaming the whole Arab region.

Western fortunes are at a low ebb in the middle East.

Beloit News — However we look at the situation, we have become embroiled in affairs of the Middle East.

One of the big questions, and we hope the administration considered it carefully, is to what degree can we afford to run counter to the tide that is running amongst the Arab peoples. Russian diplomacy, noting our position, has favored the Arabs. The Russians appear as "friends" while we appear as "enemies."

If we are to salvage "good will" in the Middle East we must retain our Arab friends, and we must convince the Arabs who are unfriendly that we are not imperialistic; that we are not aggressors, and that though retention of oil supplies is important, it isn't the sole reason for our being there.

Eau Claire Leader — It remains to be seen what action Russia and Egypt will take, but the U. S. is waging that neither will use force in the Middle East. It is a calculated risk, one that may bring more trouble, but also one which shows that we are not going to permit the Middle East to fall to communism.

Let's wait and see what happens, and not attempt to make a political issue out of the Marines standing not very far from the Shores of Tripoli.

Looking Backward

Quarry Gravel Used on Streets

39 YEARS AGO Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 2, 1819.

Mr. Nicholson's quarry, back of and near Mr. Boul's new flouring mill, is now in full tide operation, quite a number of men being employed getting out stone.

The stone is found in fine layers after removing quite a top layer of gravel.

Our wide-awake street commissioner, Mr. S. B. Walsh, is drawing this gravel to our streets in town and doing some good work with it, filling up holes and covering some of the disordered streets with this solid material which will not wash away.

10 YEARS AGO Saturday, July 31, 1948

Eight members of the Appleton Kiwanis club were to attend the convention of the Wisconsin - Upper Michigan district of Kiwanis International Sunday through Tuesday in Wausau. Delegates were A. V. Moriarty, president; Arthur Benson and Gustave J. Keller, vice presidents; and Paul Cary, secretary; Charles Swanson, treasurer; and John Lonsdorf, William Sense and Roy Berggren.

Construction of a $75,000 addition to St. Paul's English Lutheran church Neenah was to get underway shortly.

Samuel Pickard, president of North Shore Golf club, was to present five young women to Fox River Valley society. The young women were Miss Barbara Dean, Miss Virginia Dickinson, Miss Paula Stedman, Miss Gretchen Witterding and Miss Katherine Watt.

Saturday, July 29, 1933

T. H. Ryan, newly appointed municipal judge, was to speak at the luncheon meeting of the Appleton Lions club on "My Idea of a Good American Citizen."

William Kluge, president of Appleton Service Stores, Appleton grocers organization, and E. Keller were to represent Appleton retail grocers at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Grocers' association at Madison.

Directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, meeting at Hotel Appleton, authorized J. R. Whitman, president, to appoint a citizen's committee to raise finances and administer the financial affairs of the high school band and orchestra as far as extra curricular activities were concerned.

Thirty farmers, gathered at the high school at Freedom, voted to oppose an open season on pheasant cocks for Outagamie county and pledged themselves to permit no hunting on their properties in case an open season was set.

Summit solution: Use three summits. Put Khrushchev on Mt. Everest, DeGaulle on Mt. Blanc, Ike on Pike's Peak—and let 'em use smoke signals.

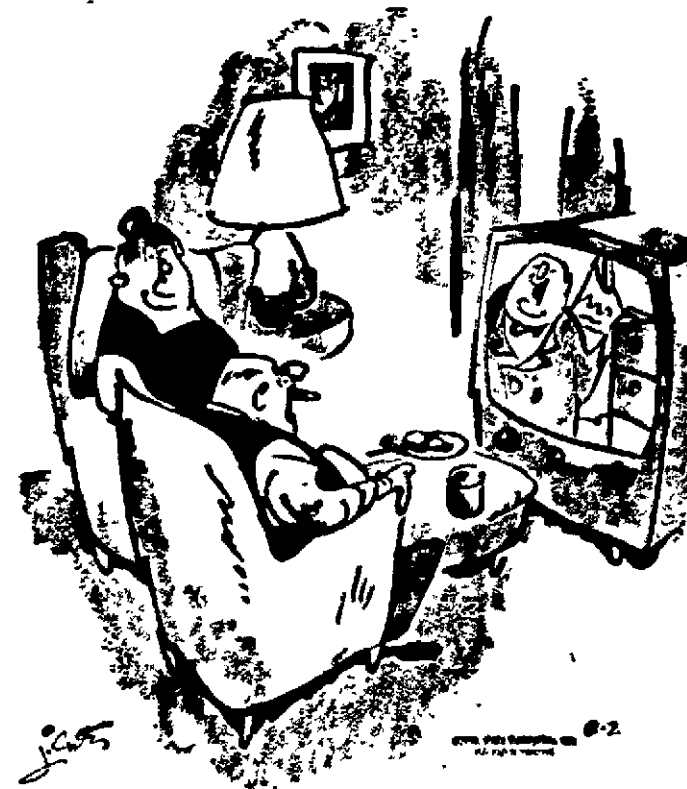

With schools about to open, one Dixie Senator says it's time to send the children to Lebanon—to be near the soldiers.

House probers vote to cite Bernard Goldfine for contempt. Charge: Zoological indiscretion—trying to breed mink by crossing the vicuna with the G.O.P. elephant.

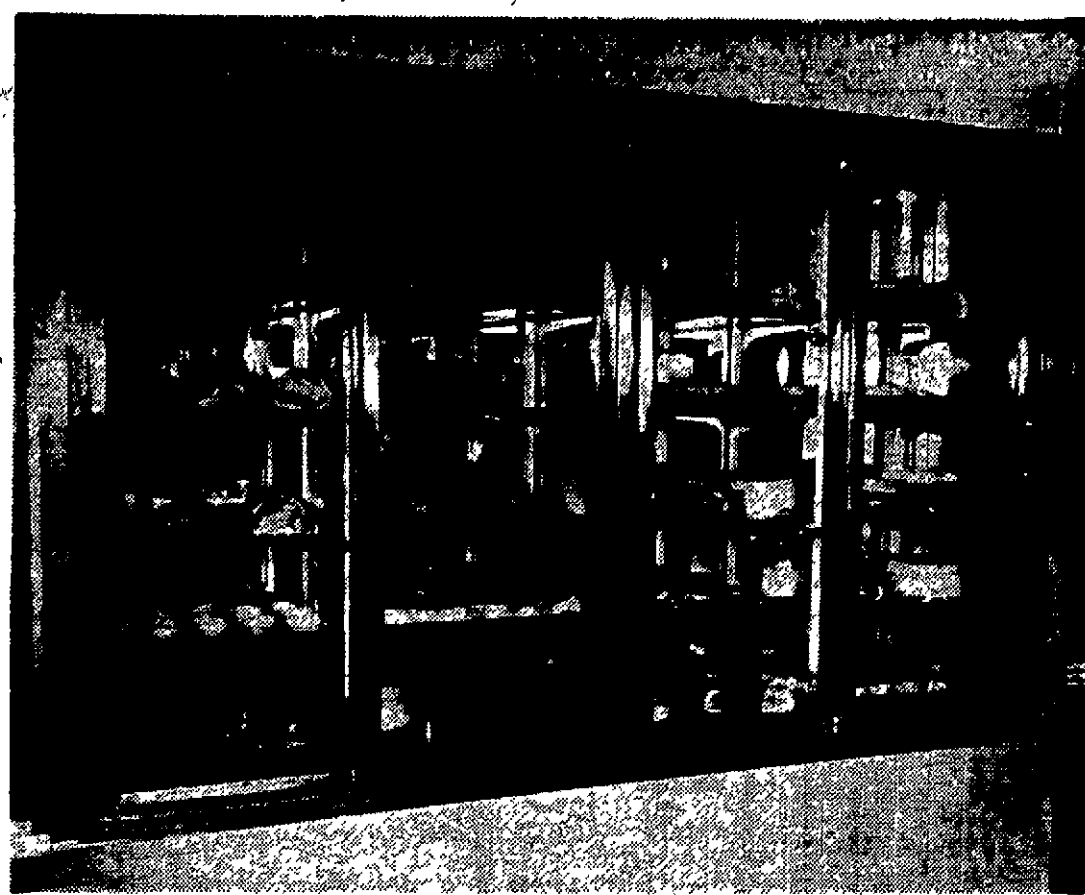

One Congressman says he's in clover. Every two years he runs against high prices—and every two years there are more of them to run against.

Marine in Lebanon: "This mission is running my love life." Second Marine: "You got troubles! Think what it's doing to the man's golf game."

Reason for the frenzied letter-writing between Ike and Khrushchev is obvious. They were trying to get it all said before the four-o' clock stamp went in.

"... And now you will see an authentic drama of the old West, taken from the files of the Apache Tribe..."

Messages of Approval from Wisconsin and national leaders concerning Cream-O-Rama, the new project of Marion Hoover, Tastee Bakery, 606 W. College avenue, have been received within the past week, the Appleton bakery firm announced Friday. Among those sending the messages were U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson; U. S. Representative John W. Byrnes, U. S. Senator William Proxmire, and Governor Vernon Thompson of Wisconsin. The men uniformly feel that the creation of this outlet to promote the consumption of cream products in Wisconsin is commendable. Their letters are on display at the Appleton store, whose display of whipped cream products is shown in the refrigerated display above. Phone number at Tastee Bakery is REgent 3-2556.

The new Cream-O-Rama has a window of the store and finishes the whipped cream pastries is completed within full view of the public. A refrigerated visual cold room has been built into the store to facilitate display of the pastries.

Nub of the new idea is the fabulous Cream Master, a cream whipping machine manufactured in dairy-famous Denmark, which makes possible a whole new range of whipped cream pastries in addition to the firm's complete line of fine pastries. The machine is located in the field of whipped cream bakery, so popular today in many countries of Europe, can now be presented to the American public, Hoover said.

Early specialties of the new department have included: strawberry cream rolls, chocolate cream rolls, cherry angel food rolls, lemon chiffon pie, banana whipped cream cake, charlotte russe, strawberry whipped cream cake, strawberry short cake and cream puffs.

"It's Surprising," say Jerry and Bill Lyman of Jerry's Shoe Repair, 126 W. Washington street, "what a new pair of heels and soles will do to make an old pair of shoes look and feel like new again." For the convenience of his customers, Jerry can apply new heels "while you wait," if this service is desired. The shoe repair firm is located in the basement of the John Balliet Hotel, and has its entrance on the south side of the building opposite Prange's Floor Covering store.

This location provides plenty of space for the operation of the business and all specialized shoe equipment necessary. In addition, it is centrally located for the convenience of all customers.

Jerry and Bill render not only expert shoe repairing work, but prompt dependable service.

Rambler Sales Up Again for July, Stebano Reports

Sales of new Ramblers in the more than double those delivered in the comparable period of last year, Roy Abernethy, vice-president of automotive distribution and marketing of American Motors Corporation, reported today.

Rambler sales total for the 10-day period climbed to 5,523, an increase of 124.2 per cent over the 2,463 sold last year.

Rambler sales in the first 20 days of July—10,634—far exceed the 6,930 sold in the entire month of July last year, Abernethy pointed out.

So far in the current fiscal year, which began October 1, Rambler sales total 123,466, a gain of 72.0 per cent over the 71,773 delivered in the comparable period of the preceding fiscal year.

Rambler sales in the first 10-day period of July more than tripled the deliveries in the comparable period of a year ago and were the highest for any first 10-day period in Rambler history.

Easy local financing is available on these F.H.A.-approved units. Some models of Culligan's home-owned water softeners begin as low as $99.95 and up.

Winners of the First Preference award with its white bread for the ninth consecutive year is the Elm Tree Bakery, W. College avenue extension, shown above, whose employees, capable members of the Elm Tree family, thanked each and every one of their customers for this renewed "vote of confidence." The bakery, proud of receiving the award, says its customers are never forgotten on the planning, selecting and baking of its many bakery products. The "win" was recently tallied in the Post-Crescent's 11th Annual Consumer Buying Habit Study.

"We try to bake the items that our customers will enjoy," said Ben Pfeifferle, bakery owner, Friday.

"Only the best of ingredients are used—the same you would use in your own kitchen. And these are combined with the same care you would use, Ben Pfeifferle too."

Throughout the bakery's 78 years of experience, it has maintained an unmatched variety of products, firm officials said.

Everyone connected with the production and delivery of Elm Tree products continues to do everything possible to maintain the good quality and taste of Elm Tree products.

Wayne Nuenkamp, sales manager said. The bakery is locally owned and controlled, so its No. 1 award should be a source of pride to all Fox Cities residents.

The Law and You

Several Means Provide Funds For Family After Man's Death

When the father in a family dies, the family income is suddenly cut off but expenses go on. This is one of the most difficult problems a family may have to face in addition to their bereavement.

A wise father may do much to help his family over this difficult period. One good way to provide the family with cash soon after the death is by the purchase of life insurance, payable to the wife or members of the family. Such life insurance may be paid without waiting for the estate to be probated, a process which may take from 6 to 15 months.

The father also may provide ready cash by purchasing government bonds payable on death to his wife or joint bonds with his wife. If the father owns a considerable amount of property, it may pay him to set up a trust during his lifetime which will make monthly payments to his wife. Such a trust would continue giving her regular income despite the husband's death.

Law's Provisions
If the husband makes no provision for income immediately after his death, a wife need not be entirely without funds. The law allows her to have all wearing apparel, family pictures,

CNW Studies Cutting Of Service to Omaha From Two Terminals

Omaha — Chicago and North Western Railway said it is studying the possibility of trimming passenger service between Omaha and Chicago and Omaha and Minneapolis.

"We have no plans to drop any of this service at the moment," said J. R. Brennan, Chicago, passenger traffic manager. "But the trains are marginal and there is always the possibility of dropping a losing one." The railroad runs two trains each way between Chicago and Omaha and one between Minneapolis and Omaha. The North Western recently dropped passenger service between Omaha and Chadron. This move is still being contested in the courts.

and ornaments of the husband, all the household furniture, the fuel and food on hand, and $400 worth of other personal property, which may be taken in cash. The county judge may then order additional amounts paid for support of the widow and children. If there is money or property remaining after these allowances have been made, the judge may award up to $2,000 for support of the widow and family before the general creditors are paid.

Archers Gather
At Kohler for State Tourney

28-Target Courses
Open to Shooters
Over the Weekend

Kohler — Hundreds of archers will gather at Kohler today and Sunday for the annual Wisconsin Field Archery association outdoor state championship tournament.

Two 28-target courses will be open for the archers who will participate in the special "hunters' round" and in the sight and instinctive competition. A 28-target course has been built especially for the event and has been approved by the National Field Archers association. It now qualifies for national record.

Score Cards

Two full days of bow and arrow fun are in store for the marksmen who will shoot at field targets; follow the hunters' course through the woods for quick shots at deer silhouettes; and take part in the novelty shooting at animal silhouettes on the side of a hill. Bow fishermen will be able to test their skill on carp in the Sheboygan river.

All score cards must be turned in by 3:30 Sunday afternoon when the championship competition will begin.

The four top shooters in both the sight and the instinct divisions will shoot another 28-target field round to determine the state champions in those divisions. At the same time the four top shooters in the hunter division will shoot another 28 hunters' round for the state championship. Both men and women will participate.

East Shore Best Now

Warden Rates Fishing
In Area as Only Fair

BY CHUCK WRANOSKY
Outagamie County Game Warden

Hortonville — Fishing in our general area is only fair. Lake Winnebago is spotty although walleye fishing is picking up along the east shore and this is now the best place to fish.

Lake Poygan fishing is fair to good. Some nice catches of walleyes are being taken on worms. Some perch, northerns and catfish are also being taken. Wolf river fishing is slow and the water is down at summer level.

For people who are interested, my new address is route 1, Hortonville. The telephone number is PL 7-5596.

Question — Must I have a license to keep game birds or animals?

Answer — Yes, a license is needed to keep any bird or animal for which there is a season or which is not native to our state. If you have any questions feel free to call me. I may save you a lot of trouble.

Question — When can I run my dog on birds to train him for fall hunting?

Answer — Aug. 15 is the date set by law.

Question — May I carry a big game rifle in my country now?

Answer — Not unless a special permit has been issued to you by a conservation warden.

Question — Can a youngster under 16 years of age who does not need a fishing license fish with two lines the same as an adult?

Answer — Yes, and he may have a limit of fish the same as an adult, if he catches them himself.

Question — Must I have a license if I want to sell bait?

Answer — Yes, a license is needed. The application can be obtained from a conservation warden.

Question — Must I have a life preserver in my boat?

Answer — Yes. Federal regulations provide that for each person in a boat there must be a life preserver.

The game law violator is a thief.

14 Counties
Report Good
Muskie Action

Muskies have been hitting good this week in 14 northern Wisconsin counties, the state conservation department said in its weekly fishing report.

The fishing review was compiled by conservation wardens. Other areas with better than average fishing are the Mississippi river where the water level is down and the Lake Michigan shore area where perch are active.

The counties where musky action is reported to range from good to excellent—at least in some bodies of water—are Ashland, Price, Sawyer, Polk, Rusk, Bayfield, Chippewa, Forest, Lincoln, Oneida, Iron, Vilas, Jackson and Clark.

Fishing for other species is spotty. Some of the better areas include Yellow and Devils lakes where walleyes running up to five pounds are plentiful; Green lake where bluegills are running up to a pound; and Lake Geneva where some bluegill catches are averaging a half pound.

More Stringent Rule
On Minnows Requested

Two Manitowish county sportsmen's clubs have petitioned the conservation commission for a more stringent rule in the harvesting of minnows in that county.

The Whiteland Fish and Game association and the Kellersville Fish and Game association asked for a rule prohibiting the taking of minnows above the dams on any of the streams in the county.

Paperboard Output

Chicago — Mills stepped up output of paperboard to the highest level since mid-June and turned out 289,506 tons in the week ended July 26, National Paperboard Association said. Producers operated at a rate of 83 per cent of capacity compared with 63 per cent a week earlier and equal to the rate for the like 1957 week. Production was 255,448 tons the preceding week and 282,617 last year.

Few Fishermen Use

1,400 Deaths

Small Boats

Water Tragedy Can Be Avoided by Using Common Sense

Small boat accidents are responsible for some 1,400 water fatalities each year—or more than one-fifth of all annual drownings in this country.

These grim statistics were disclosed by Ed Mongeon, Red Cross director of safety services for 18 midwestern states, in a statement giving suggestions for preventing boating accidents.

Mongeon pointed out that there are now 7,100,000 small recreational boats on American inland and coastal waterways, with an estimated 35,000,000 devotees of the sport.

Safety Rules

He said, "Outboard motor boats are greatly in the majority of small crafts. The great popularity of the sport and resulting accident hazards turn many a weekend pleasure cruise into tragedy."

Mongeon listed the following safety rules which can prevent most boating accidents:

1. Stay ashore in bad or threatening weather. Learn to recognize signs of storms so that, when out in a boat, you can return in time when bad weather threatens.

2. Don't "over-power" your boat. Many boats carry the Outboard Boating Club of America plate telling the maximum horsepower the boat's outboard motor should have. If your boat does not have such a plate, consult a reliable marine dealer for the information before buying your outboard motor.

3. Don't overload your boat. One adult passenger to a seat is considered a good rule of thumb.

4. Avoid sudden or excessive bursts of speed.

5. When in trouble, think—don't panic.

For the sake of boating safety, Mongeon also listed the following points:

1. Know how to swim.

2. Before leaving shore, tell someone where you're going, and then stick to this cruise plan.

3. Provide a life preserver for every passenger. Insist that

Results of Experiment Suggest
Commission May Give Unfavorable
Report on Controversial Program

Few fishermen are taking advantage of the motor trolling provision on Lake Winnebago.

And, according to reports from Madison, indifference is the keynote of public response to the controversial experiment in other sections of the state where trolling was made legal by the conservation commission this year.

Outagamie County Conservation Warden Chuck Wranosky says he has seen relatively few fishermen motor trolling on the big lake.

Some Fox Cities anglers have tried it with little success and gone back to former methods of taking fish. Others appeared reluctant to try it at all.

The commission authorized the experiment with the explanation that it was deferring to the wishes of state legislators who adopted a resolution last year asking for such trolling for a limited period.

The purpose, as the legislature put it, was to collect data on the public reaction and the consequences in terms of fish harvest.

Public Hearings

During public hearings on the subject, many anglers expressed fears that trolling would result in heavy harvests of fish and, in the end, be a monster difficult to put down. Northern interests feared motor trolling, once started, would shift into muskie waters, break up feed beds and breeding areas, and eventually ruin Wisconsin's major tourist attraction.

But thus far this season the conservation department has learned relatively few fishermen are taking advantage of their new privileges.

Director Lester P. Voigt of the department recently took an air inspection tour of the state and took special note of trolling activities on the lakes designated in the experimental order.

Few Trollers

He reported that he found few motor trollers. Field reports from department men thus far this season have corroborated his own findings.

The results suggest strongly that the commission will report unfavorably on the experiment when the legislature meets again.

It will be supported by many of the conservation groups and the resort interests which regard motor trolling with a chilly eye.

met county school committee's action attaching the district last October. Judge Parnell, in reviewing the city's appeal stated that "the court does not re-try the merits of orders but is concerned only with the question of whether the committee abused or exceeded its authority." Under state law, all non-operating districts in the state had to be attached to operating districts by last Aug. 30. Non-operating districts were those which taxed for school tuition purposes but did not themselves operate a school. July 25, 1957, the Grand Chute town board attached non-operating District 1 to school District 4. Last Aug. 17 residents appealed to State Superintendent of Public Instruction George Watson and he reversed the town board's decision Sept. 5. The combined Outagamie and Calumet county school committees Oct. 7 received a petition asking District 1 attachment to Appleton and did so Oct. 22. The combined committees also received a petition Oct. 18 asking District 1 attachment to District 4. This petition was not acted upon. Judge Parnell ruled that the committees' action in ignoring the second petition was correct, since the first petition (asking attachment to Appleton) invoked the committees' jurisdiction until its disposition. Any other petitions introduced after it were void, the court ruled. Only recourse now left to the city is an appeal to the state supreme court.

Solons Split on Bill to Increase Community Loans

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington—Members of the Wisconsin house delegation split their votes four to five on a measure to consider a bill to expand the public loan program for community facilities which the house rejected by 14 votes. Voting for the measure were Reps. Clement J. Zablocki, Henry S. Reuss, Lester R. Johnston and Alvin O'Konski. Voting against it were Reps. Donald E. Tewes, William K. Van Pelt, Melvin R. Laird, John W. Byrnes and Gardner R. Withrow.

Congressman Byrnes said he would have voted for the measure, which would have increased the national budget $2 billion, "if the proponents of the measure would be willing to increase taxes by that same amount."

"The burden of paying for this bill would have been placed on future taxpayers," Byrnes declared. "Passage of the measure would have made our bill to increase the debt limit $10 billion obsolete before it even was enacted."

How Americans Worship

The Protestants

America Was Settled to a considerable extent by Protestants seeking the right to worship God in their own way. Among them were the Pilgrims of Massachusetts, the Baptists in Rhode Island, the Quakers in Pennsylvania and the Episcopalians in Virginia.

It was thus no accident that guaranty of religious freedom appears in the very first amendment to our Constitution, and that more than 250 denominations now thrive here. America prides itself on being a land of many faiths and creeds.

To record my own impressions of the many routes that men choose to find God, I set out recently with sketchbook in hand.

In the course of my travels I visited many Protestant churches, joined in the prayers and hymns and listened to the sermons of many ministers. Although each church has its own individuality, there is about them on essential unity. As St. Paul said: "So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and everyone members one of another, having taken gifts different according to the grace that is given us." (AP Newsfeatures)

Summer Good-Grooming Includes Toe Pedicure

If you wear beach sandals, you should have pedicured toes.

Some girls go barelegged and barefooted, but never have had a pedicure. Ingrown toenails, long, unkempt and dirty toenails, sometimes decorated with nail polish for "luster," are repulsive looking. There is no time like the present to get toenails in shape for the first time.

Ease Back Cuticle

A pedicure is neither complicated nor time consuming. The first step may be taken in the shower or tub when a sturdy bristled brush is rubbed over the feet and ankles.

It's a good time to ease back the cuticle gently with a thumb, and this will take time if you haven't ever done it before. All soap should be rinsed off before you start your pedicure.

Cut your toenails straight across, file rough edges, but do not taper them. Put cotton between your toes. This is easy to do with cotton that may be stripped out of a canister. Pull out little strips about four inches long, placing them carefully.

Choose your polish to harmonize with your clothes—pink tones with blues or whites, vivid reds with dark or neutral colors and the orange polishes with brown, yellow and off-orange shades. Black and white take to a variety of polish hues.

Apply polish by going up the nail from base to tip for an even coat. It pays to take your time when applying toenail polish, as smudges are harder to erase than on fingernails.

It takes a bit of crouching, bending, manipulating and holding the hand steady to apply polish and remove excess. Let your polish dry thoroughly, as putting on stockings or shoes too soon will ruin the gloss on your polish even if it doesn't mar it.

When polish has dried thoroughly, cup a bit of oil or lotion into both hands and stroke the legs from toes to knees. Push your feet with talcum, slip on foot-framing sandals and see how pleased you'll be with the change in your foot appeal.

It's easy to get a toe-hold on leg beauty by grooming your feet as regularly as you groom your legs.

Problems
Soap, Water Will Do Wonders
In Cleaning Up Dirty Pole-Cat

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN: I've been married 10 years and my husband has become so careless about his personal habits that it's making me sick. He sleeps in his underwear and I can't get it away from him to put it in the washing machine. He doesn't take a bath for months at a time. He wears his work shirts for two weeks straight. He calls me "cold" and says it is grounds for divorce because I refuse to have anything to do with him. I told him to clean himself up and then talk about romance. He says if I really loved him I wouldn't be so fussy. Please, Ann, help me before our marriage falls apart. Even our two youngsters stay away from him. He says I put them up to it, which is not true. What can I do about a man who is so hopelessly lazy? — SUFFERING WIFE

This is more than just "lazy" — this is sick sick. Your husband should see a doctor, and get back on the track. Cleanliness is more than just a matter of personal pride; it involves consideration for others. A person's right to bathe "when he feels like it" ends where the other fellow's nose begins. Move the pole-cat into the guest room and tell him to let you know when he discovers soap and water. Tell him you'll be waiting with open arms, but not until you can throw away the clothespins. DEAR ANN LANDERS: I returned from overseas duty last week to find my mother and dad talking about a divorce. After 24 years together my mother has decided she can "do better". I'm sick at heart and feel she's making a terrible mistake. There doesn't seem to be much chance of talking her into staying with my father, but I need your advice on how to approach the Big Request. I plan to be married within the next three months. My girl's parents are very strict-laced people and I know they will view my folks' divorce with horror. Do I have the right to ask my mother to hold off the divorce proceedings until after we are married? Advise me at once, please. I will do as you say. — BUCKEYE

You bet you have the right — and hop to it. If your mother could put up with your dad for 24 years, she should be able to stand him another three months. Maybe when she witnesses your wedding ceremony with your dad at her side it will remind her of the promises she once made and cause her to reconsider.

Belts Almost Collar High When
Models Parade Laroche's Work

BY NADEANE WALKER
Paris — (AP) — Guy Laroche has put the waistline about as high as he can without turning belts into collars.

His surprisingly slim and simple silhouette is a handsome cross between the trapeze and the baby doll. It is a complete taming of the sack.

The designer left fashion writers to name his line for themselves, providing no helpful handout. His skirts just about cover the knees and that's all

He proved color news with a range of greens and mauves. Little dust ruffles are a trademark of the new Laroche creations. They appear at the hem of coats and suit skirts, under the bustline of dresses, and peeping out from under flat collars. Sometimes a fringe of wool replaces the ruffle.

The designer's strongest conviction is that the silhouette must be cut as high as possible with a belt or seam, with everything free and easy from there to a short hemline. Fullness varied from a few near-sheaths to gathered or flared but never voluminous skirts.

Semi-Fitted Boleros
His suit jackets are too short to be anything but little semi-fitted boleros. The blouse underneath is often of cashmere printed wool jersey. The skirt top is built up high to meet it without touching the waist en route. This apparently is achieved with an interior buckram band, and the effect is something really new.

There seems to be a rule this season that the waist is sacred or untouchable. The designers must have chewed their fingernails thinking up some of the tricks they employ.

Laroche puts a leather belt under breast pocket flaps on a tweed suit. Other belts, usually fabric, are attached to the bottom of bolero-length blouses. Some are slotted through coats at the same height. A few only underline the shoulder blades.

Neckline Interest
Although some dresses fall in gathers in front, most often fullness is kept to the back.

Necklines are either broadly bared boat necks or a deeply scooped curve. On some suits and dresses that resemble coats, Laroche puts flattering little mink chokers.

Gold lame evening suits are popular. Cocktail dresses get real bosomy with the high waistline, the low - scooped

In Good Taste
It's Rude to
Honk Horn
For Date

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: Whenever I have a date with my boy friend, he drives up to the house, honks his horn and waits for me to come out. As I am usually ready, I go out at the sound of the horn. My mother thinks he is very rude and says that if he thought enough of me he would come up to the house and ring the bell as any gentleman would. I think she is making a fuss over nothing. Will you give me your opinion?

Answer: If this is his customary behavior, your mother is right in thinking him very rude to you and thoughtlessly inconsiderate of your neighbors. On a rare occasion, he was a little late and you were in a hurry to get somewhere on time, he might then, very possibly, honk his horn.

Thank-You Gifts
Dear Mrs. Post: During a recent illness my neighbors were most kind to me. Not only did they look after my young daughter but they also prepared food and brought it in to me every day. I can't tell you how much these kindnesses meant to me and now that I am well again I would like to show my appreciation in some way. Should I write notes to each of these neighbors thanking them for their kindness, and also should I send each one a small present with the note?

Answer: I think an appreciative note to each would be sufficient. If you want to send gifts, I would in your place wait until you happen to know of something each one wants.

Accommodations Only
Dear Mrs. Post: I am to be married soon and have asked a friend of mine who lives several hundred miles away to be my best man. Because he works and time is an important factor, he will fly here and back. Now I am told that it is up to me to pay his transportation. Is this true?

Answer: No. He is expected to pay his own traveling expenses. You are expected, however, to provide accommodations for him while he is here.

FWD Reports Sales Boost Of $4 Million

Penny Per Share Drop in Earnings Compared With '57

Clintonville—The Four Wheel Drive Auto company increased sales more than $4 million in the first nine months of 1958, as compared with the same fiscal period in 1957. Earnings were $1.40 per share this year, contrasted with $1.41 per share a year ago.

FWD's gross sales through June 30, the three-quarters mark of its fiscal year, were $20,332,576. In 1957 at this time they were $15,950,579. Operating profit this year was $1,159,993; net profit $421,448. A year ago operating profit was $1,096,703, net profit $423,968.

In the April-June, 1958, quarter, sales increased nearly $2 million compared to 1957, while net profit per share of capital stock declined to 52c from 61c. This was due to accelerated research and tooling-up costs in line with the company's produce and market diversification program, FWD's quarterly report indicated.

FWD's backlog of unfilled orders is $8,632,000, as of June 30. Three months ago the backlog totalled $10,880,800.

Blame World Ills on Organized Christianity

New York — (U.S.) — More than 190,000 Jehovah's Witnesses adopted yesterday without visible dissent a resolution blaming the world's ills on organized Christianity.

"The clergy of Christendom," the resolution said, "stands as the most reprehensible and delinquent class on earth."

A loud chorus of "ayes" greeted the resolution when it was read to the Witnesses at the Yankee stadium and the Polo grounds.

There were 194,418 Witnesses in the ball parks or gathered in nearby streets for the sixth day of their international assembly. A crowd in excess of 200,000 is expected for the convention's finale tomorrow.

The resolution said the religious leaders had erred in encouraging the people to follow man-made schemes for peace. The clergy "turned their backs on Jesus Christ," the resolution added, in seeking support for the League of Nations and the United Nations.

"All the blind people who follow these blind religious leaders will suffer execution with them at God's hands" when the present world ends, the resolution added.

The Witnesses believe the world will end at the battle of Armageddon. Then, say the Witnesses, good will conquest evil and the Witnesses will inherit a new world of peace and everlasting life.

The resolution was read by Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract society, the movement's legal name.

In introducing Knorr, Fred W. Franz, vice president of the society, said of the resolution:

"Without any double-talk or hesitation, we declare the root cause of all crime, delinquency, hatred, strife, prejudice, communism and mad confusion to be wrong religion, false religion, behind which is man's unseen enemy, Satan the devil."

He diverted from his text to list three churchmen who, he said, have supported the U. N. They were Pope Pius XII, Msgr. Thomas A. Donnellan, vice chancellor of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York, and Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, a leading protestant clergyman.

Msgr. Donnellan declined comment later. Dr. Bonnell was out of the country on vacation.

Select Firm Fruit for Canning, Jams, Jellies, Combination Marmalade

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Fresh, firm peaches should be selected from the abundant supply now in markets for canning, whether the homemaker is using the raw or hot pack method. Canning and marmalade methods have been listed by Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, in the second in a series of articles on food preservation.

To can one quart of peaches, about two to three pounds of the fresh fruit is required. General directions include washing the peaches and removing the skins. By dipping the fruit in boiling water, then quickly in cold water, peeling is made easier. To prevent fruit from darkening, drop into water containing two tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon. Ascorbic acid may also be used. Drain just before heating or packing raw.

To "raw pack" peaches, pack the raw fruit up to one-half inch from the top of the jar. Raw food should be packed into the container tightly as it shrinks during the processing. Cover with sirup leaving one-half inch space at the top. Adjust the jar lids, then process in a boiling water bath, 25 minutes for pint jars and 30 minutes for quarts. Complete the seal, if needed, after processing.

"Hot packing" peaches is prepared by heating the fruit through hot sirup. If the fruit is very juicy, it can be heated with sugar, adding hot additional liquid. Pack the hot fruit in hot jars one-half inch from the top. Cover with boiling liquid, leaving one-half inch head space. Then process in boiling water, 20 minutes for pints; 25 for quarts.

To make a sugar sirup, mix sugar with water or with juice extracted from some of the fruit. Boil sugar and water or fruit juice for five minutes. For a thin sirup, use two cups sugar, four cups water, for a medium sirup, three cups sugar and four cups water and for a heavy sirup, four and three-fourths cups sugar and four cups water.

Jam is generally crushed or ground fruit, while marmalade has pieces of fruit distributed evenly throughout. To make peach jam with liquid pectin, use four and one-fourth cups crushed peaches, one-fourth cup lemon juice, seven cups sugar and one-half bottle liquid pectin.

Sort and wash fully ripe.

Engagement of Esther Wolf Is Announced

Neenah — Esther Wolf, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Wolf, 202 Third street, and the late Mr. Wolf, is the fiancée of Edward C. Huebner, Forest Park, Ill., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Huebner.

A graduate of Neenah High school, Miss Wolf is employed by the Chicago Title and Trust company and her fiancée received his degree from Millikin university, Decatur, Ill. He served four years in the coast guard and works for the First Savings and Loan association of Forest Park.

Fall nuptials are planned by the couple.

peaches, remove skins and pits. Crush the peaches and measure into a kettle. Add the lemon juice and sugar and stir well. Place on high heat, stirring constantly. Bring quickly to a full boil with bubbles over the entire surface. Boil hard for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat and add pectin and alternately skim and stir for five minutes. Ladle jam into hot containers and cover with hot paraffin. The recipe makes about 11 six-ounce glasses.

Peach-orange marmalade requires five cups finely chopped or ground peaches, one cup finely chopped or ground orange, one peeled orange, shredded very fine, kernels from six peach pits, ground, two tablespoons lemon juice and six cups sugar.

Sort and wash the peaches, remove skins and pits. Finely chop or grind peaches. Remove the peel, white portion and seeds from oranges, then finely chop or grind pulp.

Measure the prepared fruit into a kettle, adding the remaining ingredients and stirring well. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly or until the mixture thickens. Remove from heat, skim and stir alternately for five minutes. Ladle into hot containers and seal with hot paraffin.

Uncooked Jam

Peach jam can be made without cooking if stored in the freezer. It will stay fresh in the freezer for about a year and in the refrigerator for a few months. Because the fruit is uncooked, it keeps its fresh fruit color and flavor. For six-ounce glasses, two and one-half pounds of peaches are needed. Peel and crush the peaches to measure three cups. Add five cups sugar. Mix well and let stand for 20 minutes.

Dissolve one package of powdered pectin in a cup of water, bring to a boil and boil for one minute. Stir pectin mixture into peaches and stir for two minutes. Ladle jam into jelly glasses or freezer containers and let stand a day or two. When the jam is set, cover the glasses with a thin paraffin layer and store in the freezer.

Neenah — Neenah teams won over Appleton entries in both of Friday night's second games of the third annual Neenah Church Softball tournament at the Recreation field. Trinity scored an upset 9-5 verdict over Appleton Sacred Heart, winner over Presbyterian earlier in the week, and St. Paul edged Appleton St. Mary 2-1.

Semi-final games tonight will match St. Margaret Mary against Trinity of Menasha at 6:30 and St. Paul against Neenah Trinity at 8 o'clock. The losers will play for third place at 7 o'clock Sunday evening and the winners battle for the championship at 8:30.

Shepard Harris Win
Charlie Shepard edged Dave Kimball in a pitching duel in the St. Paul win. Shepard gave up four hits and St. Paul made five off Kimball. The Neenah pitcher walked two and struck out four and Kimball issued two walks, hit a batter and had one strikeout.

St. Mary scored its run in the top of the fifth. Denny Schultz hit a drive which deflected off Shepard into center field. When the action was completed Schultz was at third base. He was singled home by Kimball.

St. Paul Scores
St. Paul went ahead with its two in the bottom of the frame. With two out, Bill Sund singled. Jim Powers singled to right and when the ball got through the rightfielder, Sund scored and the former went to third. He later tallied on a wild pitch.

"Whitey" Kuchenbecker pitched Trinity to its win over Sacred Heart. He was touched for 11 hits, including five doubles, but forced the losers to strand five runners on second and one on third. Two more Sacred Heart runners were cut down at third and one was tagged out at the plate.

Trinity scored three runs in the first on two walks, Bob Williams' hit and a couple of wild pitches. Doubles by Tom Grishaber and Syl Mauthe gave Sacred Heart one in the bottom of the frame.

Cracks Homer
Verlie Fehrman hit an inside-the-park homer with Kuchenbecker on base in the top of the second for a 5-1 lead. Sacred Heart added one in the bottom of the inning.

Williams lofted a homer over the left field wall in the third but hits by Mauthe, Jim Ciske and Jensen accounted for two runs to make it 6-4 in the last of the third. Sacred Heart came within one of tying with one in the fifth but Trinity iced the game with three in the top of the seventh and Kuchenbecker knocked the third, fourth and fifth Sacred Heart hitters down in order in the last half of the frame.

Trinity collected eight hits off Charlie Muench and Marv Gerrits, who took over in the fifth. Muench was the loser.

The box score:
St. Paul—5, Appleton—1.
Neenah—9, Sacred Heart—5.

Macs Resume League Schedule at Freedom

Menashans Take 2-1 Record Into Sunday Meeting

Menasha — Having been knocked out of further tournament play by Little Chute-Kimberly last week, the Menasha Macs will swing back into Fox River Valley league competition Sunday afternoon at Freedom.

Because of the tournament, the Macs are a couple of games behind most of the other teams in total second round games. They've only played three, winning over Harrison and Two Rivers with a loss to Manitowish.

Contests against Oshkosh and Valley Fair were called off because of tournament play on successive Sundays. The Oshkosh game probably will be played Aug. 14 while no date has been set for the makeup of the Valley Fair tilt.

Freedom Posts 2-2
Freedom has a 3-2 second round record. It turned back winless Harrison 8-2 last Sunday in its most recent league outing.

The Macs chalked up a 6-1 win over the Irish on June 11 on their way to the first half championship. Mort Drury stopped the visitors with five hits and struck out 17.

Drury or Gene Gries is expected to hurl for the Menashans probably against Mike VandenHeuvel or Ron Newhouse. VandenHeuvel was the loser in the first game.

The Macs take an overall 15-record into Sunday's clash. In addition to the two makeup games, other games on the schedule include Little Chute-Kimberly here Aug. 10, Kaukauna there Aug. 17 and Reedsville here Aug. 24. The L-C-Kimberly game may be changed because the district champs will be competing in the state tournament that weekend.

Wilson-Reiersen Cop Junior Boys Doubles Crown

Neenah — Dick Wilson and Dave Reiersen defeated Jack Anderson and Paul Valente 6-4, 6-2 for the championship in the junior boys doubles tennis tournament. The first set was close but a service break in the second gave Wilson and Reiersen the win.

The winners bested Doug Anderson and Howard Thorpe 6-0, 6-0 in the semi-finals and Anderson and Valente won from Dale Mrotek and Dave Heller 7-5, 6-3.

Quarter-final winners were Wilson and Reiersen over Al-an Cook and F. Sopkovich 6-0, 6-1, Thorpe and Anderson over Jim La Sele and George Rosenow 6-4, 6-2, Anderson and Valente over Dan Falck and Ken Peterson 6-2, 6-2 and Mrotek-Heller over Bob Kosloske and George Forcey 2-6, 8-6 and forfeit.

Pat Solomon and Pat Cottrell took the championship in the girls 12 and under doubles meet by defeating Sharon O'Rourke and Barbara Gollnow 6-3, 6-3 in the finals.

Solomon-Cottrell bested Judy Schroeder and Doris Warzink 6-0 in the semi-finals and Gollnow-O'Rourke defeated Mary Swentner and Gail Heller 6-3.

Neenah Bowling Loop Sets 'Meet The Gang' Night
Neenah — Plans for an organizational "Meet-the Gang" night to be held at 7 o'clock on Aug. 15 at Muench's were made at a Thursday night meeting of the Goodfellowship Bowling league.

At that time, bowlers will be able to practice for the 1958-59 season, which begins Friday, Sept. 5. Refreshments and lunch will be served.

The league has eight teams with openings for two more. Bowlers must have had less than a 180 average for the previous season to be eligible.

Neenah Youngsters Have a ball park of their own—homemade style—on Western avenue, adjacent to the Marathon Graphic Arts plant. The field is replete with an outfield fence, backstop, scoreboard and flagpole and is favorite spot of neighborhood youngsters from 9 to 15, who don't have organized teams but choose up sides. Above is a view of one of the recent sandlot games with the spectators benches, and scoreboard in the background. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Seven Teams Enter Neenah Splashers Defend Title in Annual Fox Valley Swimming Meet

Neenah — Host Neenah will defend its championship in the annual Fox Valley invitational swimming meet here Sunday afternoon and evening. Other entries are Menasha, Kaukauna, Monroe, Wausau, Wisconsin Rapids and Fond du Lac. The Twin Citizens took the championship last year with 80 points. Monroe had 61, Fond du Lac 37, Wisconsin Rapids 20, Kaukauna 16 and Wausau eight.

For the third year, the meet is a closed affair with only pools which are open in the summer eligible to send teams. It formerly was an open meet but was dominated by Green Bay, Whitefish Bay and other strong teams which swam the year round.

Preliminary heats in Sunday's event will get underway at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and diving will follow. Finals are slated for 7 o'clock in the evening, followed by exhibition diving.

Events are scheduled in three age groups, juniors, intermediates and seniors. The junior boys and girls will compete in the freestyle, backstroke, conventional breaststroke, freestyle and butterfly breaststroke races and diving for intermediates and seniors and relay races for the senior boys and girls.

Began set a pool record in the junior boys' backstroke and Miss Crikelaar and Miss Bylow both won three events.

Its leading splashers include Fred Mix, Julie Biggers, Hal Jorgensen, Don Steffen, Mark Tummett, Dan McCabe, Jerry Swoboda, Bill Gerhard, Norma Metoxen, Jane Hyde, Faye Forstner, Nancy Becker and Sue Bayer.

Seek 100 Prizes For Merchants' Booster Night

37 Firms Promise Awards So Far For Aug. 20 Tilt

A single game 1958 Three-I league attendance record could very well be broken in the Appleton Downtown Retail Merchants association Booster game at Goodland field on Aug. 20. Crowds of over 6,000 people attended Downtown Merchants nights at Goodland field in the late 1940s and planners of this year's event are aiming for that kind of attendance. The Fox Cities Foxes' opponent will be Green Bay. Already, 37 firms have promised to donate prizes for the Merchants night and it is hoped that 100 donors will be obtained by the night of the game. The prizes will be displayed at the Heid Music company beginning Aug. 18.

Among the major prizes will be two totaling a retail value of between $500 and $700 donated by the baseball club. Other major prizes will be donated by the larger stores in the city. Current plans are for the game — a Wednesday evening affair — to begin at 7:30. Organ music will probably be provided at the park. The rain date for the game is the next evening. Annual Wisconsin Semi-Pro Meets Open Friday

Milwaukee — The annual Wisconsin State Semi-Pro Baseball tournament will open next Friday, with 20 teams battling for the title, and the opportunity to compete in the National Baseball Congress tournament at Wichita, Kansas. Twelve state teams will be pointing to wrest the state crown from the Milwaukee Finks, 1957 winner. The Fink team has won four titles. The field shapes up as one of the finest in its long history. The mighty men of the North — Merrill and Wausau, are entered. The Merrill Rangers captured three straight titles in 1951-52 and '53 and played in the National tourney at Wichita. Several newcomers will be in when there was a scarcity of receivers at the school, made the team. Rusch, however, is primarily a catcher and tried out at that spot at the school. He will join 22 other All-Stars from the Wisconsin and Upper Michigan area to make the trip to Milwaukee County stadium to play the Milwaukee area All-Star team.

MISSSED FIRST DAY

Rusch, a 6-foot, 175-pounder with a strong right arm, has played every position on the field except first base. He prefers to catch, but will take other positions as long as he gets in. Rusch especially excels at third base, and was selected to the Badger Amateur Baseball association's All-Star team at that post in 1956.

Taylor's Determination Put Him in Fox Lineup

It was only because of his "old pro" determination that first baseman "Tex" Taylor was in the lineup in Friday night's Fox Cities-Green Bay game at Goodland field, won by Taylor with a 2-out 2-run homer in the last of the ninth.

KC Booster Contest Is Tonight

BY MIKE DREW Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Thomas Ray "Tex" Taylor smashed a 2-out, 2-run homer in the last half of the ninth inning Friday night to give the Fox Cities Foxes a spine-tingling 4-3 win over Green Bay's Bluejays.

The veteran Taylor, a consistent plus .300 hitter in the minors who has never had big homer totals, picked the perfect time to rap his third round-tripper of the year.

After sending an Ed Strickel knee-high curve ball high over the right field fence at the 330-foot mark, Taylor was carried off the field by his jubilant teammates.

The decision evened the current Foxes-Bluejays series at 1-1 and was the second beautiful-played game in two nights at Goodland field. It was the Fox Cities' second victory in the last three starts.

Tonight, lefthander Don Cameron (4-6) will try to give the Foxes the rubber game in the series here. Ed Rakow (8-8), a righthander, is expected to toil for Green Bay.

The 8 o'clock game is a Knights of Columbus Booster attraction. Sunday, the clubs move to Green Bay where they open a series with an afternoon doubleheader. Then the Foxes' next home game is a week from tonight in Menasha.

Taylor's heroics almost overshadowed a nifty pitching job by Fox Cities righthander Ted Sadowski. In knocking off the Bluejays for the first time in four decisions, the no-windup star had a no-hitter for the first five innings.

Especially in the early innings his fast ball was hopping and he showed a fine change-up curve ball.

The tiring vet, who has been bothered by arm trouble since early in the season, allowed three runs on seven hits in the last four innings. He walked

Starr, Parilli to Lead Opposing Teams in Bays' Intra-Squad Tiff

Rookies Doug Maison, Joe Francis Will Also be Split for Next Saturday's Tilt

BY ART DALEY Green Bay Press-Gazette Sports Editor

Green Bay — Bart Starr and "Babe" Parilli, each sporting a rookie quarterback as an assistant will be enemy quarterbacks for the Packers' big intra-squad game in City stadium at 4:30 next Saturday afternoon.

Cosch Ray McLean, revealing his QB and coaching plans for the pre-exhibition classic, named Doug Maison as Starr's aide at the signal slot and Joe Francis as Parilli's helper.

McLean's four assistants will coach the opposing squads, while McLean sits back and observes the fun — with one eye on the cut list and the other on the non-league opener against Pittsburgh in Milwaukee Aug. 20.

Ray Richards, former head coach of the Chicago Cardinals who handles the Packer defense, and former Packer player Floyd Reid, a freshman coach, will pilot the Starr-Maison Men.

Jack Morton, the only coach retained by McLean from the '57 staff, and Nick Skorich, the former Pittsburgh aide who coaches the Bay's offensive line, will mentor the Parilli-Francis squad.

Should be Scorching The game promises to be a scorcher since some 60 individuals will be fighting for a chance to play major league football . . . And the price is right — 90 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

This will be the Packers' only intra-squad game of the season and Packer officials hope to make it an annual affair here. The game also will climax the first annual Packer

Aug. 11 Entry Deadline for City Tourney

Riverside Paper Defending Champ in Softball Meet

Monday, Aug. 11, is the deadline for entries into the Thirtieth Annual City Softball tournament, which will be held Aug. 18-22. The entries must be turned into the sponsoring Appleton Recreation department office by 4 o'clock that afternoon.

Riverside Paper is the defending champion. The Riverside aggregation defeated August Winter, 3-2, in the finals of the 1957 tourney.

The games will be played on local softball diamonds, although the finals will take place at Interlake. Trophies will be awarded to the champions, runners-up, and third place team.

Eligibility

Only registered playing members of the ARD softball league are eligible, and a player may play with one team only. If a player is a member of two different teams in more than one league, he must make his choice as to which team he will play with in the tournament before it begins in case both teams are entering.

Team rosters are limited to 15 players, who must be regular members of the team, on Aug. 1, and must have played at least two games. There is an exception, however: a team may add three players to its roster provided these players are of a team not entering the tourney. These players must be regular Recreation league team members.

The entry fee is $5.00 per team, payable upon entry.

Brue, Sucher Meet Today

Milwaukeeans Gain Finals of State Amateur Tourney

Milwaukee — Bobby Brue and Dick Sucher, both Milwaukeeans, were matched today in the final 36-hole championship round of the Wisconsin Amateur Golf tournament.

Ed Garvey of Burlington, met Tom Nelson of Green Bay, in the junior division competition. Brue, a 23-year-old golfer playing the title round for the third straight year, defeated

LeRoy May of Racine, 6 and 5 in Friday's semifinal round. Archie Wallin of Madison, who advanced to the semifinal round with a victory over May, was ruled ineligible Friday because he moved to Wisconsin from Illinois last December and did not meet the 1-year residence requirement for tournament participation. May was then summoned back to play Brue.

In gaining the 6 and 5 victory, Brue was 4-up at the end of 18 holes and finished out with 13 consecutive pars.

Sucher reached the championship round with a 4 and 3 triumph over public links champion Archie Dadian of Milwaukee. Radian held a 1-up lead at Alumni Coaches clinic, which starts next Friday. The clinic will draw grid mentors from throughout the state and Upper Michigan.

McLean will break down the game roster early next week and he expects to place emphasis on two evenly-matched teams. He has taken a step in that direction in the quarter-back department.

On a Par

Early drills indicate that the two veterans are about on a par, while Francis has shown a pitching edge on Mason.

The squad game will solve some problems for McLean—chiefly how to make the first major cuts. There are 50 athletes in camp now but there are an additional six at the All Star camp and six others who are coming in from summer military service.

The Packer staff is gradually getting better acquainted with the athletes, particularly the newcomers, under game conditions through the use of camp scrimmages. Another brief skirmish was scheduled in this afternoon's drill at the Onida street fields.

McLean had planned to have a heavy scrimmage today but "they came out of Thursday's big one with quite a few bumps and bruises, so we'll not hit it so hard Saturday."

Four or five are on the light-exercise list—Ernie Danjean, hip; "Jug" Switzer, knee; Joe Johnson, pulled muscle; and Howie Ferguson, sore legs; among others. Joe and Fergie were held out of action Thursday. Switzer, who reported Thursday, twisted his knee in a pass drill Friday. Danjean was hurt in the scrimmage.

Major Casualty

The major casualty Thursday was Norm Jarock, the St. Norbert star, who suffered a broken leg and foot and severely dislocated ankle. He's out for the season.

Jarock is one of three Packers at St. Vincent hospital. All three—Jarock, Jim Ringo and Len Ford—are unhappy, as expected.

Jarock: "I feel miserable because there went my chances of making the team."

Ringo, who is receiving treatment for a blood disease (mononucleosis): "I'm supposed to be in here for a week but maybe I can get out in time for scrimmage Saturday."

Ford, who is recuperating from a tough case of the flu: "I've been feeling terrible—even the medicine doesn't work."

Steve Mellinger, obtained from Washington in the Doyle Nix trade, was due in camp today or Sunday. He'll be a candidate for slot back and/or offensive end.

Bob Goemans Will Coach At Extension

Former Terror Athlete to Work in Green Bay

Former Appleton High athlete Bob Goemans of 1007 N. Douglas street, has been appointed the athletic director of the University of Wisconsin's Green Bay extension division.

Goemans, 23, is the son of Mrs. George B. Goemans, a Douglas street address, and Mr. Goemans, Veterans hospital, Tomah, Wis.

Bob, who is currently employed on a part-time basis by the Appleton Recreation department, will begin his new position on Sept. 1. In addition to coaching all sports at the extension—basketball, tennis and golf—he will serve as assistant to the extension director Roman Zorn.

Goemans was an All-Fox River Valley conference selection in basketball while at AHS and earned two cag letters and one in football before his graduation in 1953. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1957 and was in military service from June, 1957, to December.

Since his discharge he has been working on his master's degree in guidance and counseling at Wisconsin and he is now two credits short. He will have instructor's status in his new position.

Marjorie Caver Rolls 201 Line In Summer Loop

Marjorie Caver of Riverside smacked the highest game, a 201, and Lois Calmes of Eddie Mullin's, the highest series, a 289, in the final action of the Some Like It Hot bowling league at Hahn's Alley's recently.

Riverside Paper (15-6) noted out Jankel Oil (14-9) for the league championship. Riverside beat Slim Otto's (4-12), 3-0, while Jankel Oil lost to Eddie Mullin's (14-7), 2-1.

Other high scores and splits cleaned:

Nena Deligan 179, 282; Lois Calmes 197; Peggy Van Rooy, 175; Ivonne Schultz 176; Valerie Flanagan 4-10; Ann Hahn 3-10; Nena Deligan 4-5.

Cedar Rapids Tips Day-Sox

Bob Taylor's Homer in Last Of Ninth Wins

Cedar Rapids, the league leader, and Davenport, the first-half champion, put on an old-fashioned duel Friday night in the Three-I league with the Braves posting a 1-0 decision.

The climax was a dramatic home run by Cedar Rapids' Bob Taylor on the first pitch of the last half of the ninth inning. That broke up a brilliant battle of two hitters by winner Bob Hendley and loser Bill Rouse.

Horace Garner's fifth-inning double was the Cedar Rapids hit. Davenport's safeties were both by Don Bacon, a double that Taylor misjudged in left field in the third, and a single. Only two Day-Sox reached second base and none made it to third.

Lake Thriller

They had some dramatics, too, at Burlington, where the home club lost a 2-3 thriller in 15 innings to Winona on Tom McDonald's homer.

Burlington, which used every one of its 17 players, sent the game into extra innings with a run in the ninth on an error and singles by Russ Gragg and Don Voigt.

It was the fourth homer for the veteran McDonald, an outfielder since joining Winona three weeks ago. He is making a comeback after formerly playing in the New York organization.

team as a catcher, in the first year such a team was selected. Surprisingly enough, the year he was selected to the All-Star team was the first since he was about 14-15 and played for Redfield of the Outagamie County Junior league that he had been regularly playing at the catcher's spot. In high school and legion, he played left field and third base, since the catcher's position was filled.

Rusch currently plays for the New London Merchants of the BABA's Southern division, for whom he has performed since 1956. After being selected to the all-star team in 1956, he made it again in 1957, this time as a catcher. This year, the Merchants are host to the All-Stars in a game Rusch will miss if he goes to Milwaukee.

His batting average for New London this season has been around .280. In previous seasons it was around .310-315.

Long Stretch

Single and living at home, Rusch works for the Oscar Boldt Construction company, where he has been employed for the past two years. He is currently working in the construction of the new Music and Drama Center at Lawrence college.

Last year, while working at Ripon in the erection of new buildings at Ripon college, he participated in the New London Silver Sluggers school, and then played a full nine innings for the BABA All-Stars, after putting in a day on the job. Rusch admits he was beat after that stint.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rusch of Fremont, Rusch has one sister, Arlene, 27, in addition to his two brothers.

Rusch says that since his brother went to Wisconsin he has received a lot of valuable coaching from him. He and his brother, who also plays for the Merchants, correct each other after a game. While not pitching for the Merchants, Sheldon teaches at Adams-Friendship high school.

Brothers Ballplayers

Both brothers are accomplished ballplayers. Sheldon, who graduated from New London high school in 1952, was a starting pitcher for the University of Wisconsin baseball team for three years. Roger, who graduated in '56, was a pitcher on the New London Legion team which won the state championship at Superior in 1956. Sheldon coached that team, but Rusch was too old to play on it.

Rusch played four years for New London High School, where he had a .350 average. In his freshman year the team went to the state WIAA tournament in Menasha. Rusch also played five years of Legion ball, where he had a .333 average. In 1955, he made the Legion All-Star High school.

Clear, Sunny Weather to Stay Around

The Fox Cities and Wisconsin weather remained clear and sunny—if somewhat warmer—today with little chance of rain in most of the state before next Tuesday.

A Appleton had a reading of 79 at 10:15 this morning with the wind from the south at six miles an hour. The high Friday was 86 and the overnight low 62.

The forecast is generally fair tonight and Sunday although and near Lake Superior.

Actor Alan Ladd is used to this routine of being prone on a rough surface with tousled hair and cut on cheek. It's all in a day's work, he says. He can recall only one picture he has played in which he didn't have a fight. (AP Wirephoto)

Folk, Drinking Songs Enjoy New Popularity

BY L. J. KRAMP

Folk songs by the Weavers and college songs—American and German—by the Blazers and the Vienna State Opera Male chorus are among the fastest moving items on record dealer shelves today.

Perhaps it is a trend to group singing, or a new interest in the old songs, or a fading begun by college students. Others say it stems from the great regional, if not national, interest in "country" music. Whatever the reason, these vocal group discs are fine summer listening.

Folk songs have been growing in popularity since Burl Ives put them on profitable records back in the early 1940s.

Television appearances and a recorded concert, "The Weavers at Carnegie Hall," zoomed both group folk singing and the Weavers into prominence a year ago.

Various Albums

The Weavers began with "Good Night Irene" and "Tzena, Tzena" back in 1950. Their best selling Vanguard albums now include "The Weavers on Tour," and the third and latest, "The Weavers at Home."

The "Carnegie Hall" album is a taping of a 1953 Christmas eve concert in their unique style, blues, western, or country. Three men and a girl, they twang one ballad, croon another, but always convey the words as well as an infectious rhythm.

The quartet includes Seeger, a soloist on some folk records, who plays a long-neck banjo; Lee Hays, a rumbling-voiced ex-preacher; and Fred Hellerman and Ronnie Gilbert, blues and ballad soloists.

The "Carnegie Hall" album includes "Darling Corey," "Kisses Sweeter Than Wine," and "Good Night Irene," plus 17 others. "On Tour" offers Irish railroad worker songs and sea chanteys, and "Clementine," "At Home," the newest, is topped by "Aunt Rhodie" and "You Old Fool," plus some sad prison songs.

The Blazers are an unidentified male quartet whose first "College Drinking Sounds" was such a success that ABC Paramount lost no time getting out "More College Drinking Sounds," including a stereo version.

The selections range from

Remembering Short Tips Can Make Your Summer Trip Really Safe

Here are some short tips from the Outagamie county police department for a safer vacation trip this summer.

Don't carry a carload of worries on your auto vacation trip this summer. Worrying while driving is one sure way of courting an accident. Worry slows mental and physical reactions, makes it difficult to meet sudden driving emergencies. So relax, enjoy your trip. Most of the things you worry about never happen anyway.

Ever hear of high hypnosis? It can put you to sleep permanently. It traps the unwary motorist on thoroughways where driving is fast, smooth and monotonous. You can avoid highway hypnosis by making frequent rest stops. Don't wait for warning signs of this silent killer. There are none.

Prepare a check list of things to be done before starting on your auto vacation. It makes for a safer, more enjoyable trip.

Have the car safety-inspected, including windshield wipers, horn, tires, brakes, lights, electrical system, cooling system and steering system.

Secure route maps in advance; measure out leisurely drives for each day of the trip. Check tool kit and accessories. Be sure to include first aid kit, flashlight, sunburn and poison ivy lotions.

Plan essential clothing and other items needed for the trip. Eliminate all unessentials. Choose garments that serve a double purpose when possible.

Always travel with prevailing traffic flow and adjust your driving to weather and road conditions when on a motor trip. This helps to offset your unfamiliarity with road hazards and speed laws, which vary from state to state.

Families seeking a leisurely vacation motor trip should plan a large portion of their journey on secondary roads. Usually, these routes are less crowded and offer more opportunity for sightseeing and scenery enjoyment. Use throughways when you wish to make up time, but drive within the speed limits.

Thousands of vacationing motorists get into trouble every year. Here are principal reasons why:

Traveling in overloaded vehicles. Sightseeing and scenery gazing while the car is in motion. Driving too long without rest stops.

Trying to cover too much territory in too short a time.

Vacationists take a big chance when they pick up hitchhikers. Some innocent appearing ride-thumpers are actually criminals masquerading in sheep's clothing. They are especially active during the summer tourist season.

Firemen Watch a Demonstration of hose handling, one of five classes in a 3-day fire service training program which began Thursday at the vocational school. From the left are Appleton Fire Chief Paul Neumann, William E. Clark, supervisor of fire service training, Madison; Capt. Merton Schulz, Vern Voster, Edward Mandock, Gerald Meyer, and second assistant fire chief Roland Kuehn, all from the Appleton department. About 60 paid and volunteer firemen registered for the course. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Woodland Hustlers Named First in 4-H Club Window Displays

Woodland Hustlers 4-H club won first place for its farm and home safety window display during farm safety week, Russell Luckow, assistant county agent, has announced.

Displays were put in windows of stores throughout the county.

Other winners were Golden Rule 4-H, second; Mosquito Hill 4-H, third; Fairview 4-H fourth, and North Star 4-H, fifth.

Outagamie Democrats Pick Campaign Heads

Outagamie county Democratic campaign chairmen were named this week by Mrs. William Cherkasky, county chairman.

They are Lester A. Balliet,

Appleton, finance; W. W. Smith, Appleton, publicity and research; and John Van de Leygraf, Vandenberg, Carl Postal, Maple Creek and Kelly Lathrop, Greenville, rural advertising.

SUNLINER!

OPEN HOUSE TONITE AND SUNDAY 1 TO 9 P.M. (Final Showing)

Located In Beautiful Schaefer Park Area

$12,660

PLUS YOUR LOT
Or One of Ours — Just $2200 In Schaefer Park

WE WANT to again point out that the Sunliner is not a prefab or pre cut house — but completely conventionally built on the site. Actually a production model home is designed and built just like any other home. — With one notable exception.

INSTEAD of contracts being let on blueprinted plans for one home the bids are requested on a dozen homes — all basically the same size and model.

BUILDING materials are constructed for in wholesale quantities, both tube and nails by the ton, heating ductwork can be standardized and neatly completed in the shop. The result is a wholesale saving on everything that goes into the house.

Every one connected with a production model home, including the Realtor, agrees to accept less profit with the expectancy of a volume production of the one home.

WE HAVE at present 2 partially completed Sunliners for sale in Schaefer Park area. Stop out and you'll see why everyone says "they can't be beat for value."

DIRECTIONS: Go East across John Street Bridge ... cross Walter Avenue to Candee Street (East link of the proposed high level College to Candee bridge). East on Candee to Christine ... South on Christine to OPEN HOUSE on corner of FOREST and CHRISTINE Streets.
